

Ryan Littlemore Edward Jones

June 4, 2025

Presented By:

Jim Tracy, Co-Founder & CEO

Mary Deatherage, Co-Founder & President

Xcelerate Growth Partners

Who We Are

- We are a team with extensive knowledge in Wealth Management. Our expertise is broad and diverse, with a unique understanding of clients, advisors and investment products.
- We are keenly focused on growth and business development. Each engagement is custom, and we partner with clients to drive specific desired outcomes.
- Our capabilities are unique and differentiated. We merge the talents of our core team with a roster of strategic alliances to ensure best in class support and project execution.
- Our process and strategy is to excel at leading edge thinking, converting fresh new ideas into measurable results and positive transformation.

Our Competitive Advantage

- Team Development and Optimization
- Succession Planning and Practice Transitions
- The Future of Wealth Management
- Developing Leadership
- Support Staff Development and Career Pathing
- The Wealth Management Process
 - Client Management
 - Financial Planning
 - The Investment Process
 - Exceeding Client Expectations

Asset Manager Opportunities

Why Xcelerate?

- Over 150 years of significant Wealth Management experience.
- Team's track record of success and industry credibility.
- Access to cutting edge and relevant content.
- Firsthand knowledge of Financial Advisor and client preferences.
- Access to talented presenters and thought-provoking content development specialists.
- Compelling conversations about The Future of Wealth Management.
- Creative strategies to improve engagement and outcomes.

Specific Partnership Ideas

- Working with Wealth Management firms on strategy and growth around specific themes such as retirement planning, succession, planning or acting on key business initiatives.
- Content development and value-added white papers.
- Interactive and innovative idea development.
- Cutting edge Practice Management training by talented industry professionals.
- Keynote speeches.
- Conference and sponsorship strategy to enhance relationships and outcomes.
- Action plan to align annual spend and year long marketing planning.
- Advisor relationship development.
- “Train the trainer” workshops to improve wholesaler presentations.
- Access to best practice thinking, curated articles and creative training initiatives.
- Production of webinars, podcasts, and access to sought after programs.

Our Team of Experts

Mary Deatherage, Co-Founder & President. Mary is a respected industry leader, who previously led a multi-billion dollar team at Morgan Stanley. Her strategic vision and expertise are invaluable assets to the firm. Her success and high achievements as an advisor give her the knowledge and credibility to advise others.

Tara Forrest, Head of Business Management. Tara brings a wealth of expertise in developing and implementing effective business strategies. Her background in operations and risk management add structure and additional capabilities to the group.

Our Team of Experts

Xcelerate Growth Partners has established strategic alliances with proven industry leaders and experts.

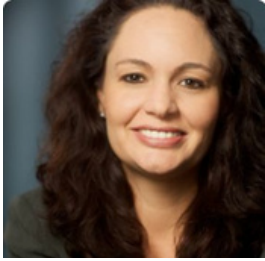

Robert B. Seaberg, Ph. D., Visiting Faculty. “Dr. Bob” began as a Financial Advisor and then moved in strategic marketing directorships. He served with Citi Smith Barney and Morgan Stanley in charge of Wealth Advisory Solutions, and pioneered the use of regional wealth planning centers. He helped develop an industry-leading HNW/UHNW training program, Family Wealth Advisor, and established the Philanthropy program.

Jane Hanson, Communications Coach. Jane is an Emmy Award-winning television journalist and communications coach. Her career began as a reporter and anchor for NBC New York, and today she continues her impact as a media, presentation and executive presence coach and Forbes contributor, where she focuses on business, leadership, and transition.

Our Team of Experts

Krista Sheets, Team Learning Specialist. As President of both Competitive Edge, Inc., and Paragon Resources, Inc., Krista leads with a scientifically-backed assessment aimed at understanding the characteristics of individuals and teams that are building blocks to success. She works with Fortune 500 clients, Wall Street firms, and hundreds of teams in all stages of development to build results-driven solutions.

Melissa Furman, Inter-Generational Specialist. Dr. Furman brings a strong background in business, counseling, and psychology with a passion for workforce, leadership, and professional development. She founded Career Potential to provide speaking, consulting, training, and coaching services. With 20 years of leadership experience and a relatable style, Melissa helps professionals and organizations unlock their full potential.

Our Team of Experts

Melissa Cokely is a Learning & Development Strategist at ELB Learning with 20+ years of experience designing and delivering programs that align business goals with meaningful skill development. She has led end-to-end learning initiatives across corporate and higher education, specializing in leadership development, human skills, financial literacy, and AI-enabled learning, and is known for her collaborative, analytical, and learner-centered approach to creating engaging, results-driven experiences.

Jim Tracy is a veteran wealth management leader with a 38-year career at Morgan Stanley, where he served as Managing Director and Senior Advisor. He held roles from Financial Advisor to Regional Director and led key initiatives including the Consulting Group and Graystone Consulting businesses, helping grow them to over $2 trillion in assets. Known for driving innovation and advisor development, Jim is a respected industry leader and advocate for mentorship and inclusion.